Philosophy

For the development of your systems and products we have six guidelines:

1. Flexibility

If there is no standard product available we develop reasonably priced solutions for our customer needs.

2. Scalability

Our products and systems are extensible. Without basic renewal.

3. Consistently Handling

Our products and systems are easy and intuitively to use. Most of them can be edited fast and easy using our handy and robust keypad. On-line of course.

4. Integration

Our products and systems can be integrated into your applications and production environment – according to your requirements. Remote access is a further option.

5. Database connectivity

No proprietary system needed: with databases you handle different product types, the parameters and the result. Easily and indifferent which IT-Environment and machines you are using.

6. Security

Our products and systems are protected against unauthorized manipulations.

Quintessences:

- Flexibility
- Scalability
- Consistently, easy handling
- Integration
- Database connectivity
- Security
